Farm Bureau Adds 144 New Members

Volunteer workers have reported that 144 farm families enrolled in Hempstead County Farm Bureau during the first week of its 1959 membership drive. Reports were received from 10 communities.

Charles W. Key, president of Farm Bureau in this county commented that early results are encouraging and the goal of 831 members likely will be exceeded. Congratulations to the Redland Community, Leon Prescott, captain as they were the first to exceed their township quota.

During 1958, 828 Hempstead farm families enrolled in the county organization.

Throughout Arkansas and the nation, counties are conducting similar drives. The state membership last year was 59,541. The second checkup meeting will be Monday night, March 2 at 7:30 at the Diamond Cafe.

2 Henderson Students Die in Wreck

ARKADELPHIA, Ark. (AP) — Two freshmen students at Henderson State Teachers College here were killed last night in a one-car accident about eight miles north of Arkadelphia on state Highway 7.

Two other students in the car were injured. The dead were identified by funeral home attendants as Glenda Zimmerman, 18, daughter of Glenn L. Zimmerman of North Little Rock, director of the Arkansas Municipal League; and Jimmy Barrett, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Barrett III of Sherill.

Injured were James Joyce, 20, a junior student of Camden, and Vicki McDonald, 18, a freshman of North Little Rock. State Police said the automobile apparently went out of control on a curve and careened off the highway. It was not determined who was driving. Attendants at a hospital here said Joyce and Miss McDonald were in serious condition with undetermined injuries.

Stripped Down Appropriation Bill Clears

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas House today passed a stripped-down Senate version of the general appropriation bill, clearing the way for action in the remaining nine days of the session.

The House voted 82 to 10 to accept the $2,675,000 bill which cut all appropriations for constitutional offices back to 1957 levels. Four attempts to amend the bill were defeated in Committee of the Whole. Another amendment, adopted by the committee, was defeated on the House floor.

Little River Rep. Marion Crank, chairman of the House Budget Committee, said separate bills could be introduced later if the House desired to increase appropriations of all or some agencies.

Hot Springs Rep. Dewey Siles opposed the bill, calling it "a deliberate move to keep prosecuting attorneys from getting a salary increase."

A proposed pay raise for prosecutors has been one of the main issues in the general appropriation bill. Two other versions of the measure have been defeated in each chamber.

Perry Rep. Paul Van Dalsen opposed all amendments, saying that adoption of any would give the Senate a chance to change the bill when it was returned to the upper chamber.

"Let's send this bill back to the Senate clean as a hound's tooth so they'll have to send it on to the governor," Van Dalsen said. Other versions of the bill called for additional expenditure of up to $300,000. The largest difference was in the appropriation for prosecuting attorneys. The original version would have given prosecutors $2,200 to $3,600.

A bill to require members of the Arkansas National Guard to pay maneuver.

Van Dalsen succeeded in translating the bill by Fulton Rep. Russell Benton in the morning hour, which means it can be filibustered to death. The Perry County lawmaker announced his intention of conducting the filibuster as long as Benton insists on holding the bill before the House.

Izzard Rep. John Miller, who supports Benton, promptly introduced a new bill which duplicates Benton's measure.

National Guardsmen now pay only $1 for license tags which cost $9 and up for ordinary citizens.

McLarty's Buy Ford Franchise in Texarkana

Purchase of the Texarkana, Ark., Ford franchise by the owners of Hope Auto Co., local Ford dealership, was announced today.

A new corporation was formed to own and operate the Texarkana dealership, the name being McLarty-Ford, Inc. The new corporation bought out Dreyer, Molot Co. of Texarkana, a proprietorship owned by Oliver Dreyer, Ford dealer in Texarkana for 43 years.

McLarty-Ford, Inc., takes over the old Dreyer operation, 300 E. Broad St., Texarkana, Monday morning, March 2.

Officers of McLarty-Ford, Inc., are: Frank McLarty, president; Claiborne Hawkins, vice-president and general manager; and Thomas F. McLarty, secretary-treasurer.

Mr. Hawkins, who will manage the Texarkana dealership, is a well known Shreveport automobile man. His wife, Dorothy; daughter, Penny 19, a junior in Centenary College; and two sons, Claiborne, Jr., 17, and Tim, 11, in the Shreveport public schools, will join Mr. Hawkins in Texarkana at the end of the present school term.

Both McLarty's emphasized the fact they will remain in Hope. Thomas F. McLarty has been Ford dealer here for 34 years, and his son Frank has been active manager the last five years. Tom and Frank said:

"This was a chance to expand our automobile operation. Of course we McLarty's are remaining in Hope. Mr. Hawkins will run the Texarkana operation."

Predicts Increase in Newsprint Prices

NEW YORK (AP) — Sir Eric Bowater, chairman of the Bowater Paper Co. Ltd., said today he feels there will be an increase in the price of newsprint.

"When it will come I do not know," he told reporters as he arrived from England aboard the liner Queen Elizabeth. He cited the cost of producing newsprint as the reason for a possible price increase.

He said he would spend six weeks in this country and Canada. Among other things, he plans to visit a fiber board plant his firm is building in Catawba, S.C.

Bill Requires Reopening of Schools in Sept.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Senate today passed a bill to require the Little Rock School Board to open the closed public high schools here at beginning of the new school term next September.

The vote was 29 to 0. The bill would not modify Gov. Orval Faubus' power to close the schools again against integration under Act 4 of 1958. It does not specify whether they would be opened on an integrated or segregated basis.

The bill, submitted by the Pulaski County senatorial delegation, now goes to the House. A bill to give prosecuting attorneys a salary increase was introduced in the Senate today by Senators Tom Allen, Brinkley, and Max Howell, Little Rock.

Efforts to increase the salaries of the prosecutors was one of the major reasons for the tie up of the general appropriation bill.

The Allen-Howell measure would give the following salaries: three prosecuting attorneys a $1,400 increase for a total of $4,200; six prosecuting attorneys, a $1,200 increase for $7,200; six prosecuting attorneys, a $1,200 for a total of $7,200.

Shorter Week Won't Help, Says Steelman

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers Union, said today that a shorter work week would not solve all unemployment problems in the steel industry.

McDonald told a news conference that despite soaring production rates in the steel industry, unemployment still is very serious. He said technological improvements are responsible.

The union leader, just back from Australia, brushed aside specific topics relating to coming contract negotiations.

The agreements expire June 30. McDonald said the USW long has advocated a reduction in working hours but he declined to say if shorter work schedules would be an issue in the coming contract negotiations.

McDonald said the USW for a long time has advocated what he called an extended leave plan for reducing working hours.

The extended leave plan, McDonald said, would give workers a three-month paid vacation every five years in addition to vacation periods and holidays now enjoyed.

Asked if such a plan will be presented to the basic steel industry, McDonald said that decision will have to be made by the Wage Policy Committee scheduled to meet soon to draft contract demands.

Accused in Pin Ball Operation Deny Charges

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Two pinball operators have accused an Arkansas Democrat reporter of accepting $2,000 to refrain from writing articles about the pinball machine business. The reporter promptly denied it.

The reporter, Robert E. Trout, said today he probably would take legal action in the matter.

Harold E. Dunaway and Cecil B. Hill alleged that Trout accepted the money last year and that he demanded $5,000 last week. The operators said they refused the latest demand.

The pair also alleged that Municipal Judge Robert W. Laster had knowledge of the purported "payoff" last year. Laster denied this and said alleged tape recordings involving him in the matter were to ridiculous for comment.

Trout said today he wanted to confer with his attorney before saying whether he would file a suit. Laster said the same thing.

Dunaway and Hill made their charges at a news conference last night. Edwin E. Dunaway, their attorney, was present.

The two pinball operators produced tape recordings at the conference which they contended bore out their allegations.

U.S. Atty. Osro Cobb said today his office was checking to see if any violation of federal law was involved in the publication of tape recordings purporting to be a record of telephone conversations. The Arkansas Gazette carried a transcript of the purported telephone conversation in today's edition.

Trout wrote a series of articles for the Democrat last year in which allegations of liquor law violations by private clubs were made.

After the articles appeared, Dunaway and Hill said, they learned from Laster that Trout planned a series "exposing" the pinball business.

The two men said they paid the $2,000 to prevent any publication of such articles. They alleged that Trout last week asked for $5,000 to stop publication of pinball articles now appearing in the Democrat and that they refused.

Trout denied all charges. Copies of the tape recordings were delivered to City Manager Dean Dauley yesterday and were to be made available to prosecuting Atty. J. Frank Holt today.

Chicago Mayor Paid $25,000 a Year

CHICAGO (AP)—Chicago's next mayor is to be elected in April, will be paid $30,000 a year or an increase of $10,000 now being paid Mayor Richard J. Daley.

The City Council voted the pay increase by a 43 to 0 vote Thursday but it cannot become effective until the mayoral inauguration in mid-April.

Daley, who led the Republican candidate, Timothy Sheehan, more than 6 to 1 in Tuesday's primary, is heavily favored to win a second four-year term. Daley's predecessor, Martin H. Kennelly, was paid $18,000 a year.

Calls for Less Talk About Berlin Crisis

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

speeches or any hasty action that could M. Dirksen (R-Ill.) underlined the potential gravity of the Berlin crisis today by pleading for less talk on Capitol Hill while President Eisenhower weighs "the hour-to-hour developments."

Dirksen, the Senate's Republican leader and chief administration spokesman, cautioned in an interview against headline-making reports that neither side was giving up critical negotiations.

Renewed tension over the Berlin situation exploded in the Senate Thursday with Democratic demands for a stepped-up defense program and for alerting the people to any eventually including the possibility of a shooting war.

Adding to the apprehension were the uncompromising tone of recent speeches by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and the apparent lack of any favorable results in Khrushchev's Moscow talks this week with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

The talks ended Thursday with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan. The talks ended Thursday with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

But the threat of serious trouble was caused by the Navy's report that no indication had been found aboard the boat of any intentions other than fishing. The captain of the vessel, the Novorossisk, was reported friendly and cooperative.

May 27, about 90 days hence, is the end of a six-month period Khrushchev mentioned for talks over his demand last November that the Western allies pull their forces out of Berlin.

Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.), assistant majority leader of the Senate, asked for a full public discussion that is understood by the people "if they are asked to give their lives, as well they may be."

But three Republican senators, Hugh Scott (Pa.), Kenneth B. Keating (N.Y.) and Winston L. Prouty (Vt.) said after a conference with President Eisenhower they got the impression "the government is prepared to meet any situation." They declined to elaborate.

Quite a Few Assessment Bills Offered

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Backers of remedial legislation aimed at saving Arkansas reassessment program planned to start the measures through the House today.

It was expected that a request would be made for the House to take up the proposals as a special order of business Monday.

The Legislative Joint Committee studying reassessment problems agreed that the half dozen measures on hand should go to the House first because the lower chamber has more bills in the hopper than the Senate and may need more time for consideration.

Final touches were put on the proposals at a morning conference between committee members and Marcus Halbrook, director of the Arkansas Legislative Council, who helped draft the bills.

Today's session wound up three weeks of work by the committee, which has been digging into various complaints about the reassessment program.

Here are some of the changes in the proposed remedial legislation:

The Arkansas Assessment Coordination Department would be returned as an advisory of the Public Service Commission.

There would be no penalty of withholding state funds from a county, city or school district if assessment has been up to 18 percent of true market value. This would remove a minimum of 20 percent by 1960 and in effect the assessment program would be based on an 18 per cent plan rather than a 20 per cent plan.

One measure would make small changes in the dates for assessor, equalization board and other tax units to complete their work.

Another bill would keep reassessment penalties on the 16 per cent level from applying to delinquent counties until April 1, 1960.

The requirement that cities must levy full five mills in order to qualify for state aid would be removed.

Navy Boards a Russian Ship on High Seas

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — A U.S. Navy team took the unusual step of boarding a Soviet trawler on the high seas Thursday, but found nothing to link the vessel with recent breaks in transatlantic cables.

"No indications of intentions other than fishing," was the finding.

The quick negative report, issued by the Navy here a few hours after the boarding was announced, lessened the "potential" impact of the incident on already touchy U.S.-Soviet relations.

There was no immediate indication how Moscow might react. Nations jealous of their sovereignty often resent the boarding of their ships by men of another nation.

The Soviet vessel is the trawler Novorossisk, with a crew of 51 men and women. The Navy reported the captain was friendly and cooperative.

The United States acted under an international agreement which the Defense Department said "authorizes investigations by naval ships of official documents of other ships suspected of damaging and interfering with cable under the high seas." Both the United States and the U.S.S.R. are signers of the agreement.

Five transatlantic cables have been damaged since last Saturday in the area off Newfoundland. Fishing vessels of many nations operate in that area and accidental cable damage sometimes occurs in normal deep-sea fishing operations.

But the Pentagon said that aerial reconnaissance by American planes "confirmed extended operations of Novorossisk in the area of the cable breaks at the time the breaks occurred."

Under orders from the commander in chief of the Atlantic Fleet, Adm. Gerald Wright, five men from the antisubmarine radar picket ship Roy O. Hain climbed aboard the Novorossisk at noon Thursday.

The trawler was about 120 miles off St. John's, Newfoundland, on international waters. Wright ordered the boarding party to make the check under a provision of an 1888 treaty to protect cables. Although it was the czarist government of Russia which originally joined in the treaty, officials here said the Soviet government adhered to it in 1926.

In an initial report, Wright said that the skipper of the Hale, Lt. Cmdr. E. J. Korte, and his four men found the Novorossisk was equipped for deep-sea fishing and that all the ship's documents were in order.

Maxwell Anderson Reported Improved

STAMFORD, Conn. (AP)— Pulitzer Prize-winner Maxwell Anderson, who suffered a stroke Thursday, showed "definite improvement" today.

The playwright, 70, remained on the critical list at Stamford Hospital, where he was taken after the stroke in his home here.

His physician said Anderson is "coming out of the fog" and now recognizes people. Anderson still has "no use of his right arm and leg," the doctor said. Anderson's right side was paralyzed in the stroke he suffered while headed for the breakfast table in his home.

Half Million Paid for No Crops

WASHINGTON (AP) — The John J. Williams (R-Dele) told the Senate today that 10 large farm operators collected nearly half a million dollars from the government in 1957 "for not producing crops" as well as getting 3 1/2 million dollars in price support loans. He contended there can be no justification for such spending of taxpayers' money.

Williams referred to payments under the soil bank plan which he called "direct subsidy, government checks paid to a farmer for acreage he agrees to leave idle or for crops he agrees not to produce."

It was Williams' second speech

KILLER AMONG US

© 1958 by Robert Martin.

By Robert Martin

THE STORY: The Portage foundry has threatened to get another supplier of grinding wheels as the result of an accident involving one of the products of the Buckeye company. Jim Bennett, a private detective, is attempting to find out if sabotage is causing the defects which already have claimed one life.

Cave said eagerly. "Listen, George, we'll send you a fresh shipment, and—"

"Shut up," McIntyre said disgustedly. "We don't want any more lousy Buckeye wheels. Oh, I know; this company has used Buckeye wheels for years, but when they kill a man, that's the time to switch." He glared at the slim dapper Chave. "You don't have this account any more, pal; no more fat Portage commissions."

"Now, please, George," Chave said desperately. "I know you're upset, but you're not being fair. Give us a chance to investigate. To see what caused this — this tragedy. We feel just as badly about it as you do. Let Larry, here, examine the grinder and what's left of the wheel. We want to get to the bottom of this."

McIntyre turned angrily away.

glanced at Quincy, saw the sick look in his eyes. Tony Chave started after McIntyre.

"Wait," I said loudly.

Chave stopped and turned. So did McIntyre. I went up to them and said to McIntyre. "You're acting like a kid with a busted cap pistol. We came here with good intentions, but if you can't be civil, we don't care if you never buy another Buckeye wheel."

For a moment he was surprised to speak. Then he turned to Chave. "Smart new salesman you got here. Hell go far, I can see that."

Chave blurted. "George, don't pay any attention to him. This is my territory." He shot me a look of pure hatred.

McIntyre stuck his hands into his pockets and tetered on his heels, his big hard belly bulging against his belt. Ignoring Chave, he said to me. "What's your first name, Bennett?"

"Jim."

He squinted at me in the sun. "Okay, Jim. Maybe I had it coming. But seeing what that wheel did to our man, and telling his wife — I guess it kind of got me, and I blew my top." He grinned.

Chave's sigh of relief was audible to all of us.

"Sure," I said. "What's the man's name?"

"Nick Pagano. Class A grinder, nine years seniority. Three kids."

"Life insurance?"

"Only what the shop carried on him — two thousand bucks. And the state will pay workmen's compensation."

"You can't put a price on a man's life, I said. 'Where's the body'?"

He stopped teetering. "Body? Why? He gestured toward the plant. 'It happened in there. What's the poor guy's corpse got to do with it'?"

"Wed like to start there, I said, thankful that Quincy and Chave had remained quiet. "And we want to see the wife and express our sympathy."

He raised heavy gray eyebrows. "You do?"

I nodded. "It's the least we can do."

McIntyre pulled a hand down over his face. "How long you been with Buckeye?"

"I started work today. Where's the body?"

"Hes at the Alanzo Funeral Home on Cherry Street. See me when you get back."

As Quincy and I drove back into the city, he said, "You kind of stuck your nose in there, didn't you?"

"It worked."

"Yes," Quincy agreed. "He calmed down. But why insist upon seeing the fellow who was killed, and visiting his wife?"

"It threw him off balance. He figured we were just worrying about losing the account. McIntyre may be tough, but I imagine he likes to think of himself as a sort of daddy to his men. How long has he been with Portage?"

"Years. I hear he started there as a laborer and worked up."

"Self-made," I said. "Does he have the sav as to those grinding wheels they use?"

"He recommends. But Archer Koller, the purchasing agent, has the last word."

"So that's why Chave was hanging on McIntyre's arm."

"Of course," Quincy started ahead and added. "Uh—Bennett. I feel a little rock. Lets have a drink before we look at that poor guy."

"Go ahead. Do you mind if I don't join you?"

"What's the matter Don't you drink?"

"Sure, but not in the afternoon — not usually, that is."

Presently Quincy pulled into a parking space in front of a bar and grille on Collinwood. I went inside with him and drank coffee while he tenderly nursed a double bourbon. When we were again in the wagon Quincy said in a tight voice. "Do we have to go to that funeral home?"

"We do," I said gently. "Besides, McIntyre is probably the type to check on us."

"What good will it do?"

"It will demonstrate our sympathy and good intentions. And it's a place to start." I glanced

Newborn Girl Has a Tough Time

CHICAGO (AP) — A newborn girl survived a rough time in the first hours of her life Thursday night.

The baby, after being born at home 2 1/2 months prematurely, received by a fire rescue squad, and surviving an auto collision that hospitalized five adults, was snuggled in an incubator in a suburban Evanston Hospital.

The infant was born to Ardell Dally, 32, and her husband, John, of suburban Skokie. Three firemen rushed to the home at the call of Dr. Deles R. Cosad and administered oxygen for 20 minutes before taking the baby to a hospital.

Fireman Bernard Wabot, 33, was holding the infant in the rear seat of a police car that collided with another car. He and the baby were uninjured and were taken to the hospital.

Two police and all three occupants of the second car were treated at an Evanston hospital for injuries.

Nebraska Governor Contest Abandoned

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — The unicameral Nebraska Legislature today formally abandoned the contest over the Nebraska governorship.

It took less than two minutes to write a conclusion to the historic challenge by which Republicans hoped to unseat Gov. Ralph G. Broome, Nebraska's first Democratic governor in 18 years.

Official election results gave Brooks a 1,640 vote margin over incumbent Republican Gov. Victor Anderson. The contest was brought by Joseph S. Wishart, Lincoln Republican.

Lt. Gov. Dwight Burney read to the Legislature today a telegram from Wishart asking that the recount be dropped. State Sen. A. A. Fenske moved that the contest be dismissed and the recount discontinued. The motion was approved.

The recount had given Brooks an additional 30 votes up to the time it was ended, making his lead over Anderson 1,670 votes.

He died late last year at Little Rock.

Mrs. Manning and their son, James, plan to be here for the unveiling.

Approximate time for the ceremony is 7:45 p.m. It will take place between two basketball games which are scheduled for tomorrow night.

DUAL-PURPOSE — An Atlas ICBM is pulled into launching position at Cape Canaveral, Fla., still cradled by the 60-foot trailer on which it was carried from San Diego, Calif. The trailer is backed up the ramp at the foot of the huge gantry tower and locked into the missile's supporting base.

British Unite in Blaming Khrushchev

by DENNIS NEEDLE

LONDON (AP) — British newspapers on both sides of the political fence united today in blaming Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev because prime Minister Harold Macmillan had obtained no concessions from the Soviet in his Moscow visit.

Even newspapers of the Labor opposition conceded Macmillan had done his best.

Macmillan himself had promised only to return with information. He had warned he was going on a reconnaissance mission, "to try to break the ice and get some feeling of the general situation."

British spokesmen in Moscow admitted Thursday, after their chief flew to Kiev for the eight-day portion of his trip, that the "feeling" Macmillan got was that both the Soviets and the West so far were standing firm on the related issues of divided Germany and West Berlin.

Britons generally had hoped for more. As a result, Macmillan's trip was widely termed a failure.

The papers agreed that Khrushchev's speech Tuesday, pouring cold water on the Western proposals for a foreign ministers' conference on Germany, had wrecked the British-Soviet meeting.

"It was Khrushchev's rough, rude speech — breaking confidences, abusing all and sundry, and belting the fair words spoken to Mr. Macmillan's face — which ended hopes raised by his visit to the Soviet Union," commented the conservative Daily Mail.

The final insult came with Khrushchev's toothache — a "diplomatic toothache" many called it — which prevented him from accompanying Macmillan to the Ukrainian capital of Kiev.

"This looks very like an entitled rebuff to Mr. Macmillan," the Daily Mail said.

The headlines reflected Britains' letdown.

"Khrushchev wrecks talks" — The Laborite Daily Herald. "Moscow mission negative" — Conservative Daily Telegraph.

"Unless there is a diplomatic miracle between now and Tuesday, the final communiqué will consist of empty words and platitudes," said the right-wing Daily Sketch.

But he added: "It has become the vogue to flatter the governor. I thought I would get in on the act."

Windsor didn't mention the school board plan, but yesterday he made clear his distaste when Rep. T. B. Tyler, also of Pulaski, submitted a bill which would permit Faubus to appoint three additional members to the six-member Little Rock board. This would give Faubus control over the board, whose members are now split 3 to 3 in their attitude toward Faubus' apparent all-out resistance to federal court orders for school desegregation here.

Windsor's proposal was referred to a committee without discussion. If the Legislature should approve the measure, it would have to be voted on by the people at the November, 1960, general election. Faubus' current term ends in mid-January, 1961.

Railroads in Ireland are now completely dieselized.

NCAA Tourney Bids at Stake in College Play

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cincinnati and West Virginia, two basketball powers with a bone to pick, are hitting high stride at the right time in their drive toward conference titles and the NCAA Tournament.

The Bearcats, bidding for another Missouri Valley championship behind the great Oscar Robertson, ran their winning streak to 14 Thursday night with an 88-69 pasting of a Duquesne team that had seven victories in its last nine games. Robertson averaged 30 points, upping his figure to 33.4.

West Virginia, going after its fifth straight Southern Conference championship, battered Davidson 100-63 in the first round of the conference tournament at Richmond. The Mountaineers play their semifinal tonight against William & Mary, an 87-69 winner over host Richmond.

It was West Virginia's 16th triumph in its last 17 games, and coupled with Cincy's lifetime win streak, puts the pair at the peak they reached in the stretch last year only to fail in the national tournament.

George Washington, holding high-scoring Bobby Ayersman to a mere five points, upset second-seeded Virginia Tech 85-67, and Art Musselman's 36 points led The Citadel to a 93-88 victory over Furman in the other tournament games at Richmond. The latter half play tonight, with the winner facing the West Virginia-William & Mary victor in the Saturday night final.

Utah fattened its Skyline Conference lead to a full game, beating Brigham Young 76-74 in overtime as 6-8, 240-pound Pearl Polard scored on a tip-in as the buzzer sounded. The Utes, trailing most of the way, set up the overtime on Rich Ruffell's fielder with five seconds left in regulation time that tied it at 70-70.

Three National Invitation Tournament teams were in action and two won. Oklahoma City was lapped Loyola of New Orleans 92-69 and Providence beat Rhode Island 65-60, although its ace John Egan, was ill and didn't play. The third of the NIT trio — St. John's (N.Y.) — lost to Manhattan 70-65 in overtime and its season mark dipped to 14-6. Manhattan (13-5) probably gets an NIT bid as a result.

DOGS

NEWSMAN TO PRESIDENT
BY FARLEY MANNING

Just as a banker thinks bankers can do things better and lawyers think lawyers should sort of run things, so newspapermen like to see other newspapermen in important jobs.

Which probably accounts for the enthusiasm with which we report that one of the top jobs in all the world of activities for and with dogs will be filled this year by a newspaperman — and incidentally a very good one.

The National Dog Welfare Guild, which is the sponsoring organization of National Dog Week, has just announced the election of Reginald Cleveland as president. Retired now — as much as an active dog show judge, magazine columnist and author of books can be — retired Mr. Cleveland was for many years in top job with the New York Times. The Guild headquarters are in New York and Mr. Cleveland now lives in Vermont but he has announced that he will "commute" as necessary.

In addition to running National Dog Week the guild supplies information on laws affecting dogs and maintains a library of dog care material on all phases of dog care and training. Letters come from people in all parts of the country asking for help in solving problems with their pets, but only

Many New Winners on Golf Circuit

By HUGH FULLERTON Jr., Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The 1959 professional golf season was notably bright for the number of first-time winners on the circuit.

Most of them were relatively unknown to the fans, who only a few years ago automatically listed Ben Hogan and Sam Snead as the favorites in nearly every tournament. But they're all golfers who can be expected to continue winning.

Among them were Wesley Ellis, Jim Ferre, Bob Goobly, Howie Johnson, Bud Johnson, John McMullen, Doug Sanderson and Ernie Vossler. Jacobs, just 24, and McMullen, 23, are the youngest of the group. Jacobs is the only one who didn't go to college. Bill Johnston, 34, is the oldest.

So far this year Vossler and Ellis are the only tournament winners among them. Ellis, who gained his first victory in last year's Canadian Open, came through with his second in the Texas Open last Sunday. Vosslers No. 2 was at Tia Juana six weeks earlier. But they all have been settling in the money with gratifying regularity. McMullen and Sanderson have been among the first 10 three times in seven tournaments.

Jacobs won the U.G.A. junior championship and reached the semifinals of the national amateur in 1951 at the age of 16. He turned pro in 1958 and tied for third in the 1957 Los Angeles Open before he was eligible to receive prize money.

Tommy's first win was at Denver, where he shot a dazzling 208 for 72 holes. He had 32 rounds in the 60s out of 126 he played in tournaments last year.

Jacobs and Ferre are pals on the golf tour. Jimmy, on the tour since 1956, was just a non-winning "buck private" until he learned from Jackie Burke how to improve his iron play.

Ferre's first victory came in the British Columbia Open at Vancouver, where he shot a 61 in the second round.

Goobly, 27, former third-string quarterback at the University of Illinois, became a golf pro in 1956 and went on the approved player list late in 1957. Members of his Darien, Conn., club contributed $1,500 to finance him on the 1958 winter tour. He shot a last-round 66 to beat out Sam Snead in the Greensboro Open and by the end of the year he had collected $13,215.79.

Sanders won the Canadian as an amateur in 1956, joined the tour in 1957 and won a tournament in the British Columbia Open at Vancouver, where he shot a 61 in the second round.

Johnson and Johnston, the oldsters of the winning group, belong to the 1956 crop of touring players. Howie Johnson, 33, gained his first victory by beating Arnold Palmer in a playoff at the Azalea Open at Wilmington, N. C., last spring.

Bill Johnston played in 22 tournaments last year, won the Texas Open and collected money in 10 others.

More Witnesses in Ozark Trial

OZARK, Ark. (AP) — Additional state witnesses were heard today in the first degree murder trial of Bill Russell, 52, Altus, accused in the fatal shooting of his wife.

Sheriff Bob Pritchard resumed the stand at start of the day proceeding. He was followed before the noon recess by five others, including neighbors of the Russells, and Dr. C. C. Long of Ozark, who was called after Mrs. Russell was shot.

A few, we hope, are like the one they recently received from Kansas.

"I am disgusted," the man wrote, "with the way my dog drinks martinis. First he laps all the drink out of the glass. Then he starts nibbling at the edge. He eats the glass down half way, but leaves the stem."

"I have tried to break him of this but he is apparently a very dumb dog. Everyone knows the stem is the best part."

Blevins Boys Advance in Junior Meet

By The Associated Press

Semifinal games will be played tonight in four state high school basketball tournaments.

In the class A senior girls meet at England, one semifinal will put England against Marked Tree. Both of these survived quarterfinal competition yesterday.

The other semifinalists won't be known until two remaining quarterfinal games are played: Manila against Clinton and Stephens against Van Buren.

The card for the Class B girls' tournament at Parkin calls for a semifinal between Viola and Keiser and a second semifinal between survivors of two quarterfinal games: Pangburn vs. Altheimer and Hartman vs. Greenbrier.

The same general situation prevails in the boys' tournament schedules.

Jonesboro and Bentonville meet in one Class A junior boys semifinal in the tournament being played at Jonesboro the other semifinal contenders will be determined by quarterfinal games between Berryville and Mena and Forrest City and Warren.

Aubrey and Dyess are the definite semifinalists in the Class B junior boys meet at Newark. It'll be the winners of Blevins-Cedarville and Oden-Newark in the second semifinal.

Would Prepare for an All-Out War

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thomas J. Dodd (D-Conn.) called today for an urgent 90-day program to prepare the American people, economy and defense for a possible Soviet-triggered war over Berlin.

He urged quick Senate passage of a resolution to proclaim united American efforts backing Eisenhower-Dulles policy of standing fast against removal of Western troops from the "one outpost of freedom within the Communist slave empire."

If war comes over Berlin, he said in a prepared Senate speech, it will be the result of a "deliberate, calculated strategem of Red aggression."

A suggestion by Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.), assistant majority leader, that Western Allies consider the possibility of direct negotiations between East and West Berliners to unify their municipal government and public services has stirred up intermittent Senate debate.

PASSING VIEW

GEARY, Okla. (AP) — For 42 years students have entered the Geary High School building through the rear door. The front faces vacant lots and a railroad track. Old timers said the school was built facing the tracks so passengers on passing trains would have a pleasant view.

New Style for Men Designed to Get Money

By WALTER BREEDER JR., AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Men's wear retailers with an eye out for something new that will induce the hardy male to part with a few bucks are pinning their hopes on the "Continental."

Styled in sunny Italy, the continental suit is popping up in a few selected men's apparel shops this spring, vying for attention with the still popular Ivy.

Men, among the most conservative of this earth's creatures, are looking and comparing but they aren't buying yet. At least, not many are buying.

Retailers hope the fad will start to catch on next fall. "If this thing works out, you'll see a rash of buying by October," says one. "By the spring of 1960 we'll be well into a fashion craze that should sweep the nation."

Leslie F. Vail, president of a men's apparel chain, sees a great future for the Continental suit among rising executives who he says have literally and figuratively outgrown Ivy.

In case you haven't seen one, the jacket is one to one-and-a-half inches shorter than that of the Ivy or conventional "American lounge." It has squared shoulders, narrow, peaked lapels, pockets that slant backwards, and a cutaway front. The most popular style has two front buttons and side vents.

Unlike the straight hanging Ivy or the bulky American lounge, the Continental follows the contours of the body — and the contours are those usually associated with business success, plenty of nourishing food and drink, not too much physical exercise, and middle age.

The jacket's lower half artfully conceals any incipient bay window. From that point down, the front is cut back sharply. The over all effect is one of worldly sophistication and youthful slenderness. Pants are pleated, tapered and without cuffs.

The Youth Improvement Committee will be trying to beautify the City Park, Saturday, Feb. 28 by setting out trees. The committee is composed of Floyd Turner Ray, Newton, L. D. Scott, James McDonald, Luther Burton, James Keys, John Dennis and Clifford Tys.

Linda Johnson, Dolores Brown, Dorothy Flonoy, Shirley Keels, Bernis Straughter, Winfree Bragg, Misses Ruth Garland, B. L. Britton, M. V. Minor and Mrs. Velma Smith will be chaperones.

Anyone interested in helping on this project should contact Roscoe Smith, City Park supervisor.

Integration Bills Move Through House

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas House of Representatives yesterday passed a bill to integrate public schools, but two others found the going rough and were withdrawn momentarily.

The bills approved would permit state and local governments to sell or lease public recreation facilities to private groups, and would allow the state to sue for damages in any place of business and would permit public school boards to follow a student who transfers from an integrated institution.

After objections by some members, the bill requiring certain organizations to register with state officials and a proposal that persons applying for public employment be required to list organizations to which they have belonged during the last five years.

The student pay bill already passed in the Senate and now is ready for action by the governor. The House made one change, excluding church-related schools from the list which students might attend. At least two such schools have been established in Little Rock since the city's four high schools were closed last September by Gov. Orval E. Faubus.

The House bogged down again in its efforts to agree on the state's general appropriation bill and Rep. Marion Crank of Little River County, co-chairman of the joint budget committee, said he would abandon any further efforts to get a committee bill approved.

Instead, he said he would concentrate on an alternate budget bill introduced by Rep. Paul Van Dalsen of Perry County which eliminates all proposed pay increases for the state's prosecuting attorneys. This feature has been the block over which previous efforts to get a committee bill approved have stumbled.

The vote for the committee bill yesterday totaled 56, with 75 needed for passage. With less than two weeks remaining in the 60-day session, agreement on the general appropriation bill is becoming more and more important since it must be enacted before any other budget bills can become law.

The Senate, meanwhile, wrangled at length over budget increases for the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission and then defeated a move to roll back the increases. The economy move was launched by Sen. R. T. Williams of Russellville who attacked a proposed fund of $115,000 for advertising, special meetings and special films in the commission's industry-hunting campaign. He also proposed that the salary of William P. Rock, commission director, be cut from $15,000 to $10,000 per year.

Sen. Tom Allen of Brinkley called the commission "one of the finest agencies in the state government" and succeeded in marshaling the votes needed to defeat the budget cuts.

The Senate passed, over the objection of its three members from Little Rock, a bill increasing the number of paying patients that may be admitted to the University of Arkansas Medical Center. Sen. Robert Harvey of Swifton, the author, said this was the only way the center could meet its increasing demands for money. The bill does not limit the number of charity patients that may be admitted.

New offerings during the day included a bill by Sen. Jerry Sereeton of Hazen requiring the state Highway Commission to submit detailed information on projects seeking appropriations. It also calls for establishment of a long range planning system in the Highway department.

The House got a new bill empowering Gov. Faubus to name three additional members to the deadlocked Little Rock School Board.

Rep. T. E. Tyler of Pulaski County said the bill had been suggested by Ed I. McKinley Jr., president of the Little Rock board.

"Board members have told me the board is hopelessly deadlocked, not only on integration but on other vital matters. These appointments will break the deadlock and clear the way for definitive action on the school situation before next September."

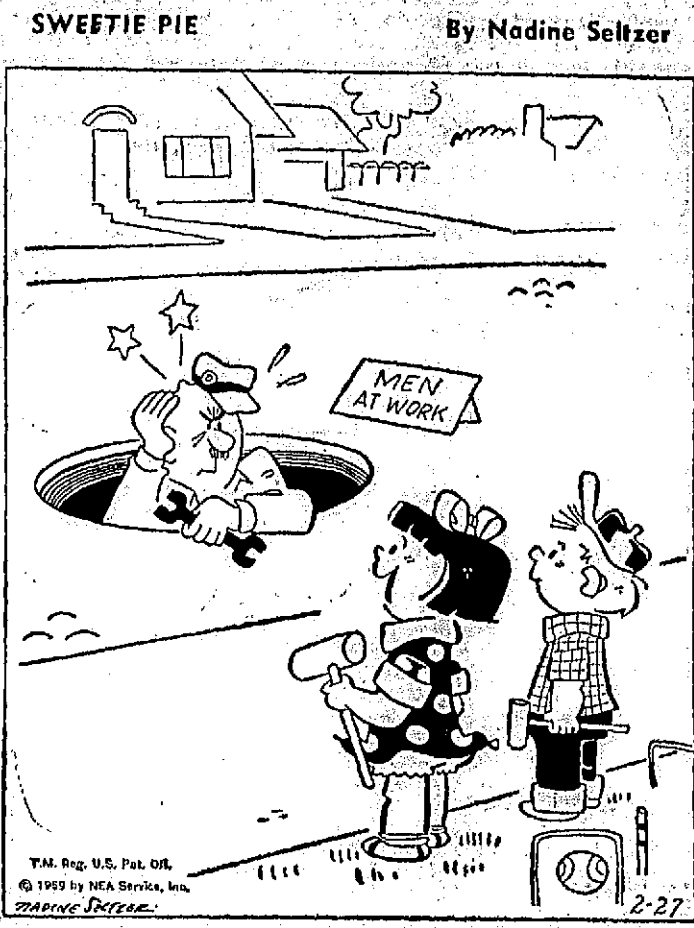

Under terms of the proposal, the three members would serve until the next school election, when their successors would be chosen.
